Reasons For Allowance

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The primary reasons for allowance of the claims are the inclusion of "Declaration Of Prior Art Invention In The United States Or In A NAFTA Or WTO Member Country To Overcome Cited Patent Or Publication (37 C.F.R. 1.131)" and Applicant's remarks on page 2 received on 15 November 2004; and also based on the inclusion of "server computer for distributing the transaction into a plurality of messages and allocating the messages to different computer systems; display interface for displaying the allocated messages and associated computer systems, wherein the display interface is operatively associated with the server computer; and means for communicating allocation history for each allocated message to the display interface." in independent claims 1, 6, 12. The prior art, Gossler et al. U.S patent # 5,799,173 does not have these three limitations.

As a matter of facts, Gossler only discloses, "each one of the servers 60-68 can also issue service requests to any other server or resource manager; the service request provides information (e.g. the type of the requested service, data required for the service) required for the processing of the service. The server then links the corresponding service routines, in the example service routines 70 and 72, and carries out the requested service by employing the service routines 70 and 72 (col. 2, line 65-67; col. 3, lines 1-10)".

Therefore, Applicant's instant claims are considered to be allowable.

Art Unit: 2142

2. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
3. Claims 1-17 are allowed.
